

Digital Analytics Program (DAP)

Last updated May 21, 2020

The Digital Analytics Program (DAP) is a central, shared web analytics service for federal agencies of the United States government, managed by the General Services Administration. Participating federal agencies report web analytics to a central account, and have access to all reported data. Data from the program is also shared publicly at analytics.usa.gov.

Participation in the Digital Analytics Program was last measured on May 21, 2020.
